Czar's Cavalry Drives Back Germans on Left Bank of the Vistula.

Offensive is Continued in Galicia, Where Capture of Over Twelve Thousand Soldiers is Reported—Kaiser's Army Dislodged from Forts in the Region of Wirballen and the Rominten Forest.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA, Nov. 8 (via Amsterdam and London).—The following official statement was issued today:

"In the southwestern war theater the battle on the whole front yesterday continued with undiminished force. In spite of the obstinate resistance of the enemy, intrenchment after intrenchment near Kroupani was taken, until at 5 o'clock this morning one of the strongest points, Kostajnik, which the Serbians believed unconquerable, was stormed by our troops. The number of prisoners and captured guns is not known."

PETROGRAD, Nov. 8.—The following official statement was issued from general headquarters today:

"On the Eastern Prussian frontier our troops have dislodged the Germans from the region of Wirballen, which was strongly fortified, and have progressed as far as Stalluponen (sixteen miles east northeast of Gumbinnen). In the region of Reminten forest and Lyck our troops continue to press on the heels of the rear guards of the enemy."

"On the left bank of the Vistula our cavalry have penetrated German territory, damaging the railway near Pleschen station, to the northwest of Krasn."

"On the road to Cracow on November 6 we attacked the Austrian rear guards along the Vistula River and next day were operating on the River Nisla."

"In Galicia our troops are continuing their offensive movement. In the latest engagements on the San River we captured 125 officers and 12,000 soldiers, as well as rapid fire and machine guns. South of Przemyśl on November 6 we took more than a thousand prisoners."

MILLIONS AWAIT RUSSIAN ADVANCE.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—It is asserted in Berlin that Germany and Austria-Hungary now have concentrated about 8,000,000 soldiers on the line from Thorn to Cracow and this is considered sufficient to crush the Russian forces," says a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Times. The message continues:

"Military authorities declare that the result of the coming battle is not in doubt and that the Russian army will be completely destroyed. They explain that it is necessary to allow the Russians to advance to the frontier, in order to prevent them from making a good retreat after their defeat."

"The present retirement of the Germans is necessary, they say, in order to have the railways immediately behind the army for the approaching main battle."

RUSSIANS REPORT GREAT VICTORY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Rome correspondent of the Weekly Dispatch sends the following:

"According to the Russian Embassy, the Russians secured 300 guns, six trainloads of supplies and 40,000 rifles from the enemy in a victory on the San River, Galicia. The victory took 30,000 Austrian prisoners. The Russian attack on Przemyśl has been renewed violently."

"On the East Prussian front thousands of bodies of Germans have been buried because the frozen condition of the ground makes burial impossible. As no armistice is granted for the removal of the wounded, large numbers of them die of cold during the nights."

"The Germans in retreating, destroy every town through which they pass."

ASKS JAPAN TO SEND TROOPS INTO EUROPE.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

PEKING, Nov. 8.—Enticing offers have been made to Japan by agents of the allies in China to induce the Mikado to throw 200,000 of his seasoned troops into the European theater of war.

Following the fall of Tsing-tao, which releases Japanese troops and warships and removes any German menace to Japan's prestige in the Orient, the allies are exerting every effort to bring Japan into the conflict. A guarantee of a free hand in the affairs of China is the price offered for the Mikado's troops. The younger statesmen are said to have welcomed the proffer with enthusiasm, but the more conservative are dubious. The status of Tsing-tao is problematical. Japan has insisted that her only intention is to restore the territory to China; but this, it is learned, will be done only under a rigid agreement that China shall cede no more territory to any European power. Failing this undertaking from China, Japan will proclaim her title to Tsing-tao in perpetuity. Japan's announced intention of the fall of Tsing-tao, made no admission of British influence in the future of the province.

To carry 200,000 troops to the Russian battle front by way of the Trans-Siberian Railroad, Japan would have to perform the herculean task of

FRENCH REPORT GAINS ALL ALONG THE LINE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The Sunday afternoon French official war statement said:

"Yesterday, between the North Sea and the Vosges, the fighting was less violent. Some attacks, not general, of the enemy were repulsed in the direction of Dixmude and to the north-east of Ypres. On almost all of this front, we in turn took the offensive and advanced, notably in the region to the north of Messines."

"In the neighborhood of Arras, the British troops progressed slightly. Between La Bassée and Arras the attacks of the enemy were repulsed."

"From Arras to Soissons nothing of note took place. Around Soissons our forces made a marked advance. In the region of the Vesle, we strengthened our positions recently gained. A dense fog prevailed all day in the north, as well as in Champagne and Lorraine, hampering the action of the artillery and the aviation corps."

"The situation in the western theater of war is described in a statement issued by the Belgian government at Haere and received here today as follows:

"The head of the bridge over the Yser at Nieuport has been retaken by the allies, following an offensive movement by them. The enemy held the front on Lombardtzyde, to the vance into the border provinces of the Ottoman empire. The Turks have been making great efforts in the last three months to get their military forces into shape for fighting, but the Russians have likewise prepared for trouble in this quarter. The reports of Russian corps engaged in the fighting in Poland and Galicia it has been noteworthy that there has been no mention of those from the Caucasus. The three corps and four cavalry divisions that are normally maintained in this district form a force of about 120,000 men.

The Russians advancing from the Caucasus should outclass their opponents both in numbers and in equipment.

BELGIUM ISSUES CALL TO COLORS.

SUMMONS INTIMATES THOSE NOT JOINING VOLUNTARILY MAY BE COMMANDEERED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] LONDON, Nov. 8.—Another call to the colors has been issued by the Belgian government to all nationals. The summons this time is accompanied by an intimation that those not joining voluntarily may be "commandeered."

All Belgians under 45 years of age who were present in the Belgian National Guard are now allowed to enlist in the regular army, and all Belgian soldiers between 18 and 30 not wishing to enlist as volunteers are informed that "they may be commandeered and their services employed in different works for the army."

The Belgian government explains that the object of this order is to get all the able-bodied soldiers back to the front and to induce as many others as possible to join the army. After the receipt of the order, the public of the burden of "providing for Belgians who ought to be helping in the struggle to dispossess the invaders."

"A German attempt to take Albertville, on the west shore of Lake Tanganyika, failed."

"A Belgian column from Kalanga has entered British Rhodesia to aid the British forces from Abercorn in an operation directed against German East Africa."

Those who lost their lives were Aviator Bowers, who was killed at St. Erme, France, on October 12, and Lieutenants Von Kleyer and Menzel, who had been listed as missing since their flight to Amiens on October 5.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR BELGIANS.

Arrangements Made to Send Food Across Sea.

All Kinds of Non-perishable Goods are Wanted.

Commission to Handle Work will Sail Wednesday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—An appeal to the American people for food and money to relieve the distress of Belgians who are homeless and starving as a result of the war was issued tonight by the Belgian Relief Committee in New York, which, in cooperation with the Rockefeller Foundation, has arranged to send food direct to Belgium as rapidly as full cargoes can be collected.

Large quantities of food must be imported from America in order to meet the absolute necessities of the famine-stricken non-combatants, according to advices from the Belgian Relief Committee in London. In order to avoid competition in the purchase of supplies and the consequent increase in prices, the Rockefeller Foundation has arranged to purchase a steamship pier, to charter ships and to convey all supplies contributed by the American public.

The foundation is now negotiating to obtain another large neutral ship to follow the Manassapaque, which sailed for Rotterdam last Tuesday. The committee in London, of which Ambassador Flage is chairman, has arranged for distributing stations in Belgium under the immediate supervision of the American Consuls in the afflicted districts.

Perishable goods, such as potatoes, apples and other fresh vegetables and fruits cannot be accepted, as all ships sailing to New York must make a long sea voyage. Wheat, flour, rice, peas, beans, canned goods, cured or salted meats and coffee are the supplies most desired by the committee.

This method of extending relief, the committee points out, is by no means intended to interfere with the freedom of any person or organization to render aid in any way which seems advisable, but rather to provide efficient transportation and distribution facilities which may be freely utilized by all who desire to avail themselves of this co-operation.

The War Relief Committee to be organized by the Rockefeller Foundation to determine the best means of relieving needy non-combatants in Belgium, will sail for Liverpool on Wednesday. The mission, it was announced tonight, will be to visit the afflicted districts, to determine the needs of the people and to establish Belgian colonies on farms in the United States, Jerome D. Greene, secretary of the Rockefeller Foundation, said tonight that the commission would investigate all sides of the relief problem and that it might touch incidentally upon the political situation in Belgium. He emphasized the point, however, that any consideration of the political situation was merely incidental and stated that the Belgian refugees intended to return as soon as possible to their own country.

PURCHASE FOOD FOR BELGIANS.

AMERICAN MONEY TO BE USED TO BUY SUPPLIES IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—American contributions to the Belgian Relief Commission will be used hereafter to buy food supplies in New York for shipment to Belgium.

According to a statement made yesterday at the Belgian legation.

A supply committee in New York is now purchasing supplies which are shipped in care of the London American Committee to Belgium and thence to Brussels, via Holland to United States Minister Whitlock, under the international agreement of the committee and neutral powers.

"We have no information from Belgium," said an official at the legation today, "except that at seven millions of our people are starving. But the progress of the relief work indicated in our records and from the press dispatches makes us feel that the situation is slowly improving."

AMERICAN FLOUR GOES TO LIEGE.

The Executive Committee consists of Mrs. Lindon W. Bates, Mrs. Edw. H. Hewitt, Mrs. August Belmont, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. H. C. Hoover, Miss Anne Morgan and Miss Mary Parsons.

The committee has received financial backing on this side, which enables it to pay the transportation charges of foodstuffs from one part of the world until they reach the hands of the Belgians, so, it is stated every ounce given by Americans will reach its destination without any shrinkage in the original value of the gift through transportation or organization expenses.

GERMAN CRUISER GEIER INTERNES AT HONOLULU.

Officers and Crew Paroled and American Marines Dismount Guns.

Vessel will be Held at Hawaii Until Close of the War and Japanese Vessels on Guard will be Free to Join in General Search for Hostile Warships Now Lurking in the Pacific.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The little German cruiser Geier, which has been repairing at Honolulu, while a German squadron waited outside the harbor for her to appear on high seas, interned for the war at Honolulu last night, the set by the American government for her to intern or leave.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.] HONOLULU (T. H.) Nov. 8.—The German warship Geier, which has been undergoing repairs to her machinery for several weeks, and the North German Lloyd's steel schooner Locks, which arrived here recently, were placed today under a guard of United States troops and will be held here until the cessation of hostilities under instructions received from Washington.

Admiral C. B. T. Moore, commander of the Pearl Harbor naval station, has paroled the officers of both ships and American marines are dismounting the Geier's guns. The vessels will be assigned to anchorages in Pearl Harbor. The ships were boarded at midnight by Collector of the Port Malcolm A. Franklin and Admiral Moore, midnight being the hour set by which time the Germans were obliged to choose between leaving the port or being permanently interned.

The Japanese battleship Hizen and cruiser Amats were standing guard at sea outside the three-mile limit awaiting the decision. They coaled yesterday from the collier Hattori.

The naval authorities at Pearl Harbor are holding prisoner the reporter for a Japanese newspaper, who on November 3 was caught disguised as a fisherman while attempting to reach the Hizen in a sampan. Instructions from Washington are awaited in his case.

MUCH INTEREST IN GEIER'S CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The case of the Geier, a craft of only 1600 tons, aroused much international interest. Soon after she dropped anchor in the harbor of Honolulu about three weeks ago, after a voyage from the Far East, a big and powerful Japanese cruiser, the Hizen, appeared off the Hawaiian coast and anchored within the three-mile limit. Later another Japanese cruiser joined the Hizen, and they seemed determined to wait as long as necessary for the enemy.

How long the American government would give the Geier to make the repairs which international law would allow in a neutral port was a question over which there was much speculation. It was reported that the repairs needed were considerable, and it might be necessary to send the vessel to the United States for repairs. The United States Department of naval and customs officials, it finally was decided that all the repairs could be made by midnight Friday night. The captain of the vessel then was given a four-hour reprieve in which to decide whether he would remain at the harbor or attempt to break through the line of Japanese ships. The decision was made in his favor, and the Geier remained in the harbor.

The Geier's case has created much interest in the Pacific. The vessel is a small one, but her capture is a significant event in the war.

TONS OF FOODSTUFFS POURING INTO BELGIUM.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] LONDON, Nov. 8.—The second week's report of the Atlantic Commission for Relief in Belgium shows that the commission in a fortnight has delivered to Belgian relief stations 228 tons of cereal foodstuffs. Additional supplies "in hand" are:

In Holland being forwarded, 2030 tons; en route from England 3472 tons; in the Atlantic 5199 tons; in various ports, 10,000. Also the commission has in course of collection eight cargoes estimated at 25,000 tons.

By November 13 the commission will have delivered into Belgium about 17,000 tons of foodstuffs, and during the last half of the month will deliver about 15,000 tons. The commission, therefore, is about 25,000 tons short for November.

The requirements from the first of December will be about 30,000 tons monthly, and the commission has assurances of 22,000 tons for delivery during December and January.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Meeting Is Postponed.

The meeting of the members of the Los Angeles section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers scheduled for tomorrow evening, has been postponed until the 17th inst. to Petersburg, not Petrograd.

G. A. Galtz Hocky of Petrograd, Russia, arrived here yesterday and is staying at the Alexandria. In registering he gave his home as St. Petersburg, ignoring the change in the name of his native city which was ordered by the Czar at the beginning of the present war. He made no explanation.

Funeral of Mr. Althouse.

The funeral of Daniel T. Althouse, realty man and former fruit dealer who died at his home in this city Friday evening, will be held at the St. Andrew's church at 2 o'clock. Rev. Fred Cordeau, pastor of the Holy Heights Evangelical Church, will officiate. Interment will be at Rosehill.

Club In Politics.

The Los Angeles Ad Club is in politics. This statement is verified by several copies of the last issue of the Ad Club Order, which states that the officers of the club to hold office during the next year will be elected at the luncheon of the members tomorrow at the Hotel Clark. S. S. McClure, publisher of McClure's Magazine, has been invited to attend. Impromptu Geyser.

A water main, presumably weakened by corrosion, burst underground at the intersection of Council street and Benton way about noon yesterday. The water, under high pressure, forced its way through about four feet of tightly-packed earth and paving material and shot fifty feet in the air. The flow continued over two hours and the water threatened damage to the Arroyo de la Brea storm-drain excavations. These were ultimately saved by a volunteer crew of workers and by the timely turning off of the water.

GERMANS CONCENTRATING
FOR BATTLE IN FLANDERS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, Nov. 9.—A general battle has been proceeding along the whole front from the sea to the Vosges Mountains for the past three days without the Germans having been able to find a weak spot in the French defense.

However, it still is in Flanders that interest in the formidable and seemingly interminable battle centers. The Germans are concentrating there all the men they can get and ceaselessly are hurling them against the allies. Never has this method been directed with as much tenacity and fury as now.

The attacks on the line from Ypres and the Lys are more violent even than those directed against the coast road and the passages of the Yser. It is the British who bear the brunt of these onslaughts. In many places their lines have become so thin, says an officer who has been in that region during the past fortnight, that only by showing obstinacy worthy of the traditions of Waterloo are they able to hold their ground. Their losses in officers have been terrible. One battalion of foot guards went into action commanded by a non-commissioned officer. Certain cavalry regiments have lost half their effective strength.

Occasionally, according to this officer, the Germans by surprise capture some of their trenches but by vigorous counter attacks the British not only regain these but win fresh ground.

The Indian troops continue to bear themselves manfully despite enormous losses. They have proved themselves the equal of any other troops. Compared with the German losses, these officers continue, those of the allies appear almost insignificant. After night attacks 600 dead, he says, often are found before a single allied trench. Recently, still according to this officer, a British battalion caught a German brigade in close formation and slaughtered 4000 of its men in a few minutes.

The fight rages with the greatest intensity south of Ypres on the Menin road, the Ypres Canal, the Lys and the Plateau crossed by the [New York Press.] The French possess a curious institution in the form of an institute of zoological psychology, established on a farm near Paris. This institute comprises meadows and barnyards, a stretch of forest and a large pond stocked with fish. Then, there are spacious buildings, including modern stables, a riding school, stalls for isolating animals under special observation, an aquarium and a laboratory. A dove-cote is placed upon the roof of the main building.

It is reported by a scientist that an important conclusion reached by the students is that some animals possess a special sense, whereby they detect the presence of water even though they cannot see it. The experiments were undertaken at the suggestion of an Australian, who addressed the institution with reference to his experience with sheep and cattle when being driven across country. The Australian noted some curious facts. The leading animals suddenly would lift their heads and draw long breaths. Then they would abandon the beaten tracks and start running through the brush. Sometimes they would run for a mile and a half to two miles, and could not be stopped by a volunteer crew of workers until leading to a pond or spring hitherto unknown.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. Ten cents and 25 cents per box. All druggists.

We Are Painless Dentists

And yet there are people who go to their dentist, wait in an agony of apprehension for their chair to be tilted and sit in justified fear and trembling while he probes and grinds and cleans and scours and hurls, turns, HITS! CHINESE POLITENESS.

Their Rules of Propriety are Sometimes the Opposite of Those of Other Countries.

[Yonah's Companion:] One of the sayings of Confucius is, "If you do not learn the rules of propriety, your character cannot be cultivated." Yonah, a Chinese, points out in his valuable book, "Thirty Years in Moukden," the "rules of propriety" according to Chinese usage, are often diametrically opposed to the customs of the West. The European gentleman, even if he has a university education and polished manners, seems a mere boor to the Chinaman, and offends at every turn against the strict etiquette that, in its main points, is observed by the lowest coolie.

Wherever he goes, the foreigner helps to confirm this opinion of him. He is traveling in the interior. It may be on horseback, and he rides through the quiet country hamlets as he would at home, at a rapid pace. As he passes a group of men, he calls out, "Hello! Hello!" and they reply, "Hello! Hello!" He probably gets no reply, and rides on, thinking what unmanly louts these Chinese rascals are.

A rough, uneducated countryman is the next traveler. He pulls in his horse to a slow amble as he enters the village; this is one of the "rules of propriety." On reaching the group of villagers, he dismounts—rule number two.

"May I borrow your light?" he asks. This is an apology for troubling them—rule number three. Then he, too, inquires the way to X, and receives ready help; if need be, a man will even accompany him to point out the way. Thereafter these same yokels not unreasonably refuse to cash their checks, or to give them any other what unmanly louts foreigners are, ignorant of the most elementary rules of propriety.

THE INFORMAL BRYAN.

Has Reduced the Formalities When Presiding Foreign Ambassadors to the President.

[Pittsburgh Gazette Times:] Ever since William Jennings Bryan began to preside the State Department the presentation of newly arrived foreign diplomats to the President has been attended by much less formality than used to mark such ceremonies. The chief reason for this is William Jennings Bryan. In previous administrations, a new Ambassador or a new Minister has been introduced to the President in accordance with custom by the Third Assistant Secretary of State. The fact is, such diplomatic chores as that are among the main functions of the Third Assistant Secretary, who deals largely with the social side of things. But Mr. Bryan has fallen into the habit of making such presentation himself. That is why the ceremonies have become less formal. William Jennings Bryan is not a stickler for custom or precedent. If he were a crank on the subject he would not make Chautauqua speeches in a little alpaca coat scarcely any larger than a wrestling jacket. Mr. Bryan thinks that a great deal of the formality that creeps into our customs that are entirely useless—like cauliflower, rats, mustaches, hat check boys in restaurants and Pomeranian dogs.

Some few months ago when Mr. Bryan went down to Norfolk, Va., to receive Mr. Muller, the Brazilian Secretary of State, his attention was called to the fact that he really ought to be wearing a high hat instead of the everyday felt dome covering he had brought along.

Mr. Bryan readily agreed to do whatever his high position demanded of him, and so he borrowed a silk hat from a steamboat captain. It was an eighth of a size smaller than he had been wearing and sat high on his head rather rakishly, but knowing it was the only silk hat to be had, Mr. Bryan was contented with it and he worried about it not at all.

Streets Strown With Glass.

[New York World:] Crossing a bridge by the railway station, a French dragon laughed when he saw our startled looks and what he said below and against the bridge supports.

They were waiting for the Germans. The streets were strwn with broken glass bottles and barbed wire was coiled everywhere. The little place is in a hollow, and one needed but slight imagination to see the flaming hell it could become at any moment.

It was growing dusk, and I suppose I have never before felt such an urgent desire to leave a town says H. M. Thomas in a cablegram.

Cars of All Sizes are to Start Out.

BY AD. G. WADDELL.
Forty daring desert race drivers are to leave Los Angeles this morning on the seventh annual Phoenix road race, the famous "desert classic" of the West.

STILL DARK.
As it will be still dark when the drivers start the race, the management requests that the headlights on machines which are parked along the course, be dimmed for the safety of the drivers and spectators.

THREE UNKNOWN.
The three Metcals, Nos. 9, 11 and 14, are to be driven by three novices, three boys from the local Metcals branch who know the car and the roads but are unknown to racing fans.

REAL SPEED.
E. L. Standish, chief checker at the race, wired in last night that the Times Buick scout car, which is making the run over the course on distillate, averaged better than thirty-four miles an hour and predicts that Barney Oldfield and some of the other fast ones will lower that time several minutes.

THE FORD.

PASADENA, Nov. 8.—A grocery company has filed suit against eight of the stockholders of the Moreno-grove Hospital Association, to collect a debt for groceries purchased by the Moreno-grove Hospital during the last year and a half.

According to Attorney Thompson of the law firm of Bennett, Cary, Turnbull and Thompson, who are representing the grocery company, the association could not meet the bills, and so the grocery company resorted to the stockholders' liability law.

Each stockholder was called on to pay in proportion to the amount of stock held in the hospital association. Many paid their part of the $500 grocery bill, but there still remains due nearly $300, it is alleged.

Those stockholders who are included in the suit are H. H. Webb, Z. T. Malaby, William E. MacCoy, Clara Wadsworth, M. P. Green, Walter D. Rogers, W. H. Ballard, O. P. Clough, William Stone, Mary B. Beck, Louis W. Rogers, Harry West, M. L. King, James M. Wishart, M. E. Wishart, W. H. Hubbard, Sara Hardin, Fronie Ayres.

Judge G. A. Gibbs is representing some of the defendants.

Her grief over the separation from the cats is so keen that it may add seriousness to her condition.

It was long after she should have had medical attention before she consented to part with her companions. The cats were taken to the Pasadena Humane Society, where all but the favorite one, which was kept in the home, were taken to the humane society and will be kept at the humane society in case she recovers.

CHEMISTS TEST

ANGELENO EXPERTS SEEK TO UNRAVEL MYSTERY OF WOMAN'S DEATH.

PASADENA, Nov. 8.—In the test of chemical experts in Los Angeles has been the death of Mrs. Grace Stone, 52 years old, of Redlands, under mysterious circumstances in this city two weeks ago.

The District Attorney's office has decided that the evidence secured through the chemists will be placed before a Superior Court jury, which will weigh the testimony of Claude H. Lashlee and the husband, Charles H. Lashlee, who are charged with responsibility for her death, alleged to be the result of a criminal operation. The date of the preliminary hearing has not yet been set. It is declared that Dr. Lashlee has a strong defense, for he claims that the treatment he gave the young wife was necessary to save her life, and that the lockjaw which was the cause of her death was the result of a spider bite after she left the hospital the first time.

EARTHQUAKE
JARS COAST.

OXNARD, Nov. 8.—People in this vicinity were awakened by an earthquake shock at 2:45 o'clock this morning. It rattled windows and doors, shook dishes on shelves, and is believed to have caused some chimneys to crack.

The tremor lasted for about three seconds at Oxnard, and was followed after a short interval by a much lighter and one not unlike the one four months ago. This was heavier in the valley than in the mountains. At Santa Paula the shock was barely felt and it was greatly felt at Redondo, where it caused some alarm for a few minutes.

PUSH BARROW
OVER DESERT.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 8.—Pushing a wheelbarrow, which contained all their worldly possessions and their 1-year-old son perched on the top of the load, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harper of Los Angeles passed through here today on their way to Texas. They plan to make the entire trip on foot, having no funds to travel in better style. After the strenuous trip from Los Angeles, via the Santa Fe tracks, they arrived here and applied to the County Hospital for quarters for the night.

BRITISH SEIZURE OF STEAMER

HITS AMERICANS.

MONROVIA, Nov. 8.—Mrs. C. H. Meares and her daughter Miss Adelaide Meares, arrived here from New York this week and will pass the winter with Mrs. Meares's son, P. H. Meares, at the latter's home for the Southern Counties Gas Co.

Mrs. Meares's other son, Ricardo Meares, is now in Tampico, Mexico, where the family has large oil interests, and is at present trying to get settlement from the British government in payment for a new oil tanker and cargo of 15,000 barrels of crude oil, seized by the English en route from Tampico to the United States. The ship is chartered under an English company to which Mrs. Meares belongs and of which John Hays Hammond is president, so there will be no international complications.

The English have converted the tanker into an auxiliary cruiser and have equipped her with thirty-four rapid fire guns and manned her with a crew of over 200 British sailors, according to word just received from Meares, who has been receiving payment for the boat and cargo if the British come through the present war satisfactorily.

PLANS COUNTY FARM.

Oxnard Police Judge Would Give
Unemployed an Opportunity to Get on their Feet.

OXNARD, Nov. 8.—C. J. Elliott, Oxnard police judge, is advocating the purchase by the county of a farm as a solution of the problem of the unemployed, who have been coming to the county. He believes that, with agricultural work provided, a place for the men to sleep, good food and a small wage, the men could be self-supporting. In Ventura county, beans, beets, fruits etc., could be raised.

C. D. Freeman, Southern Pacific special police officer, who was shot last week by William Garcia, has been taken to the county hospital in San Francisco, and will be sent up when moved. William Wilks, police officer also shot by Garcia, is improving and recovery is expected, and Chief Keller, who shot the third victim, is improving rapidly.

SUGAR BEET HOLIDAY.

Farmers' Day at Chino Draws Great
Crowd of Merry-makers for Frolic
Turkey Dinner Served.

POMONA, Nov. 8.—Farmers' day at the plant of the American Beet Sugar Company on the Chino ranch southeast of here was a great success. Beet growers and their families being present as guests of the company from Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Lankershim, El Monte, Puente and other places, as well as the Chino farmers. The guests were taken on a tour of inspection through the factory, which was being operated by a large crew, and the interesting process of sugar-making was explained.

Visits were also made to the sugar company's ranch, where stock is being fattened on dry beet pulp produced at the plant, this now being an important fodder. The alfalfa field was also inspected, where various grades of alfalfa are prepared for use, and for the making of certain beet pulp products.

At noon a delicious turkey dinner was served to about 350 persons, thirty-five birds being consumed, with gallons of cranberry sauce and many other delicacies. The company usually entertains its beet-growing farmers at a "get-together" time.

PLANS TO RAISE HERBS.

CALIPATRIA, Nov. 8.—That the marvelous climate and soil conditions of the Imperial Valley are suited to the production of various medicinal herbs is the belief of City Engineer Stone of Calipatria. Stone is investigating the feasibility of certain experiments in this line and to that end has interested experts of the Federal government and of the agriculture department of the State University. It is well known that the climate is ideal for the production of such herbs as cotton, alfalfa, grapes and many other products, and Stone believes it is only a matter of finding the proper herbs and plants adapted to the valley conditions to develop a large business in their production. He was started in his experiment with small truck, perhaps about three acres.

SHEEP DESTROY PESTS.

HANFORD, Nov. 8.—Sheep, raised in large numbers in Kings county, are the animals of the hour in this section. The grape-leaf "roller" has arrived and the woolly beasts are of especial benefit in that they are not difficult to control, and He has urged the vineyardists to enlist the aid of the sheep in destroying the pest.

The trouble lasted for about three weeks at Oxnard, and was followed after a short interval by a much lighter and one not unlike the one four months ago. This was heavier in the valley than in the mountains. At Santa Paula the shock was barely felt and it was greatly felt at Redondo, where it caused some alarm for a few minutes.

WOMAN HANGS AT LONG BEACH.

Financial Situation Believed to be the Cause.

Money and Valuables Fill
Safety Deposit Box.

Political Activity Fosters
Under New Charter.

LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 8.—Though she had property estimated to be worth $20,000 and had money and valuables in safe deposit boxes, Mrs. Mary E. Moore, aged 57 years, hung herself some time last night in her apartment at No. 245 West Sixth street. Her body was cut down this morning by the police who are still striving to find a motive. They are inclined to attribute the suicide to worry over the financial situation and its effect on her property.

Mrs. Moore shared a three-room apartment with Mrs. A. M. Ogilvie. The latter left Mrs. Moore in seemingly good spirits and health at 10:30 o'clock last night. This morning Mrs. Ogilvie found her dead, hanging from the closet door. She had tied a rope to a sewing machine and then threw the rope over the door. She fastened the rope to a shawl strap which she tied around her neck and placed a towel inside the shawl strap. She stood upon a pile of books and kicked them from under her when she was ready to die.

Detective Penny, Patrolman Tancy, and Policemen Reinhardt answered the call from Mrs. P. A. Hibbard, the landlady. The body was removed to the mortuary and the police are endeavoring to find out the cause of the suicide. Later written instructions that her body should be taken to the Cleveland mortuary were found, and the last wish of the deceased was carried out.

PROVIDES FOR FATE.

The note found in Mrs. Moore's effects runs as follows:

"If I should die suddenly, send my body to Cleveland, Bureau in my white dress, in the bottom drawer of my bureau. You will find a key to a safe deposit box. Give it to the Exchange National Bank which is executor of my estate. Telegraph my brother, Skiles Browning, Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa. Give the machine to Mrs. Patterson, No. 235 Pacific avenue."

Mrs. Patterson, who knew Mrs. Moore for more than ten years and who lived with her for a great part of that time, told part of the dead woman's story. Mrs. Patterson denied that Mrs. Moore was a miser and that she was wealthy and had money and valuables on deposit in the same safe deposit box as Mrs. Patterson's. Mrs. Moore came here from Pittsburgh twelve years ago. She had no relatives in the city, and made few acquaintances. She had business and residence property in Pittsburgh, a ranch of 160 acres near Sacramento, and other property.

Mrs. Moore was greatly surprised to hear of the suicide of her friend and hinted at the women lived, stated that the dead woman had been trying to raise $1000 for the purchase of a new house, and that she had been unable to do so. She thought the failure to raise the money was the cause of the suicide.

Before she adjusted the shawl strap and rode around her neck, Mrs. Moore made her bed and placed her room in perfect order.

COUPLE GONE.

Helen Howard, a pretty 16-year-old miss, is gone from her home, No. 25 East Sixteenth street, and her mother, Mrs. P. P. Howard, is keeping the wire hot to police stations all over the city, endeavoring to find her.

Ira Doherty, aged 22, who, until the day that Helen disappeared, was employed at the Edison electric plant on the harbor, is suspected by the mother of being responsible for her daughter's disappearance. They were infatuated with one another, Mrs. Howard says, and immediately after she found her daughter missing she made inquiries concerning Doherty, finding that he, also, was among the missing.

POLITICAL PLANS.

No sooner had they cast ballots at the State and county elections, than certain politicians in Long Beach began to get busy in fermenting another political brawl. A strong party of citizens in business enterprise is endeavoring to find a way to secure a slate for the election under the new charter in April. A stenographer in the First National Bank building stated yesterday that there was prepared a lengthy platform for one of the parties. This platform is to be "extra liberal" and the party is endeavoring to win the election by the use of the platform.

No damage was reported done by either of the quakes.

EARTHQUAKE AT BEACH.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 8.—The majority of residents of the beach district were startled from their sleep this morning shortly before 4 o'clock by a severe earthquake shock.

The tremor was felt by hundreds of people who were instantly awake and alarmed. In some cases the furniture was shaken and in some people told of creaking beams and squeaking floors. A second disturbance was felt about 10 o'clock. No damage was reported done by either of the quakes.

Several hundred business men and fraternal organizations participated in the great civic, industrial and fraternal parade this afternoon. The parade was led by Queen Allen and her royal retinue and the Ontario concert band and was viewed by thousands.

AUTO-STAGE CRAZE
TRAVELS NORTHWARD

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 8.—Bakersfield has followed other Southern California cities and has a regular automobile stage service on its streets, covering a regular route in competition with the street cars and carrying passengers at 5 cents each.

The fact that two-thirds of East Bakersfield is without street car service has led to the introduction of the auto stage. The car line terminates at the Southern Pacific depot, where there is crossing of eight tracks which the company refuses to build over or under and which are now pending before the State Railroad Commission to force the construction of a subway.

North of the railroad the city extends north for over a mile and to the east for almost as far, all of which section, a residence district, is without car service. The auto stage covers all this district and carries passengers on the same route as the street cars, but at a rate of 25 cents.

A regular line of automobile big carriages with a capacity of twenty-five passengers, including baggage, has been established. Taft in the West Side of Bakersfield, has running in the district of public auto stage service, hour or fifteen, carrying passengers for 25 cents.

Eighty-ninth Illinois Infantry, five of Canada, admitted to Bakersfield in 1912, died November 8, aged 65.
